

Summer is here, are you prepared?

Beyond routine cleaning, facility managers and owners should be taking on deep cleaning initiatives in advance for a fresh season of new visitors and employees returning to work.

Whether you're an office space, government agency, industrial building, warehouse, or an educational facility the appearance and cleanliness of your space is paramount. Our goal at Eagle Cleaning is to do just that. We want to make sure that every nook, corner, floors, carpets and restrooms is living up to the prestige of your business or property. Our special project team is fully qualified and committed to delivering exceptional results.

Here are essential deep cleaning tips that you should strongly consider.

Focus on the Floors

No matter what season of the year, floors take a beating every day. Foot traffic is consistent. After a dirty winter and muddy, wet spring, summer is a great time to thoroughly eliminate the dirt, dust, and debris that has taken up residence on the floors. Let us help restore the beautiful shine to your floors.

Tackle Carpets Too

Carpets that are vacuumed regularly and spot-cleaned quickly after a stain or spill do not look dirty. In fact, they may seem incredibly clean. But, over time – especially in a commercial or office setting – large amounts of dust, pollen, dirt, debris, and germs will accumulate. Take advantage of the summer season, when there are fewer people in the office and fewer germs coming in and out. Steam cleaning your carpets will disinfect the carpets thoroughly and pull out the gunk that even the most powerful vacuum can't extract. Dust, pollen, mold spores, and allergens especially will be sucked out and allow for improved indoor air quality.

Refresh restrooms

There's no denying that daily cleaning helps facility managers maintain restrooms. Despite standard precautions, dirt and bacteria will build-up over time. Address dirty restrooms by implementing a deep cleaning service for restrooms that effectively removes built-up soils by sanitizing all restroom surfaces and fixtures.

Deep Clean Everything

After living through a pandemic and feeling like the whole world is contaminated, every cleaning effort will be appreciated, especially as your employees return to work and customers start to visit. Having a deep clean done with professional caliber cleaning supplies will eliminate germs, dirt, bacteria, harmful chemicals, and more, helping to prevent and decrease sickness, increase productivity, and boost morale in the workplace.
